Coal Creek depicts life in South Gippsland set around 1880 to 1920, preserving the heritage of the early settlers to the region. It is situated on the site of the original Coal Creek Mine where mining began in 1889.

Education program sessions are directly linked to the Victorian Essential Learning Standards. Civic s & Citizenship/Humanities and Designs, Creativity & Technology sessions combine to give students an experience comparing past and present during the years surrounding Federation, in a variety of domains. Science/environmental units address water catchment, quality and conservation utilising our unique wetland system within the park.

Programs are conducted by teachers with the assistance of volunteers. Your visit can be fully structured or quite open with plenty of time to explore at your own pace. General entry is Free with modest charges for program sessions.
