South Gippsland Highway, Korumburra

LEWIS, Tracy; (born, Melbourne 1966).

Painter, Graphic Designer, Printer, and Illustrator

"My work is predominately about landscapes and the environment where I live (Korumburra) I like to paint the rolling green hills, ploughed fields, stormy skies, light and shade of the open spaces, the changing weather and seasons or the dark mists of a moonlit night.

Time, the Weather and Knowledge lost are underlying themes to my work represented by my use of icons no longer used, worshiped or considered necessary to our lives; such as stone circles, an unused grain silo, an abandoned tree house or building.

These themes also reflect my interests in archaeology, myth and ancient civilization."
